Melanie Franz, Facilitator
Mindy Franklin, Host

Wednesdays, 6:30 – 8 p.m.
Starting April 11

During the most terrible years of World War II, when inhumanity and political insanity held most of the world in their grip and the Nazi domination of Europe seemed irrevocable and unchallenged, a miraculous event took place in a small Protestant town in southern France called Le Chambon. There, quietly, peacefully, and in full view of the French government and a nearby division of the Nazi SS, Le Chambon's villagers and their clergy organized to save thousands of Jewish children and adults from certain death. Same Kind of Different as Me, by Ron Hall & Denver Moore.

Linda Guzman-Ellenberger, Facilitator
Roxanne Cousins, Host

Wednesdays, 6:30 – 8 p.m.
Starting April 11

A dangerous, homeless drifter who grew up picking cotton in virtual slavery. An upscale art dealer accustomed to the world of Armani and Chanel. A gutsy woman with a stubborn dream. A story so incredible no novelist would dare dream it. It begins outside a burning plantation hut in Louisiana and an East Texas honky-tonk and, without a doubt, in the heart of God. It unfolds in a Hollywood hacienda, an upscale New York gallery, a downtown dumpster and a Texas ranch. Filled with pain, betrayal and brutality, this true story also shines with an unexpected, life-changing love. Register here.

The Great Divorce, by C.S. Lewis.

Wednesdays, 6:30 – 8 p.m.
Starting April 11

Laura Spongberg, Facilitator
Krista Sunderson, Host

In timeless allegory of heaven and hell, this classic recounts an incredible voyage as a narrator boards a bus on a drizzly English afternoon. He soon embarks on an incredible journey through Heaven and Hell, meeting a host of supernatural beings far removed from his expectations, eventually coming to some significant realizations about the nature of good and evil. Beyond Colorblind: Redeeming Our Ethnic Journey, by Sarah Shin.

Joanie Martin, Facilitator
Joanie Martin, Host

Thursdays, 6:30 – 8 p.m.
Starting April 12

In our broken world, ethnicity and racial identity are often points of pain and injustice. But God created us with our ethnic identities, and he made them for good. We bring all of who we are, including our ethnicity and cultural background, to our identity and work as God's ambassadors.

Ethnicity and evangelism specialist Sarah Shin shows how our brokenness around ethnicity can be restored and redeemed, for our own wholeness and also for the good of others. When we experience internal transformation in our ethnic journeys, God propels us outward in a reconciling witness to the world. Ethnic healing can demonstrate God's power and goodness to others and bring good news to the world. Shin helps us make space for God's healing our ethnic stories, grow in our cross-cultural skills, manage cross-cultural conflict, pursue reconciliation and justice, and share the gospel as ethnicity-aware Christians. Jesus offers hope for healing, both for ourselves and for society. Discover how your ethnic story can be transformed for compelling witness and mission. Register here.
